Can solar panels be considered a form of Art?

Solar panels, according to Armor, can be both functional and a form of art. The statement reads: "Van Aubel demonstrates that solar panels, whilst collecting energy, can be beautiful and a form of art too". The graphic design on these solar panels is made with a colored Moiré effect, which is an interference pattern produced by overlaying similar, but slightly offset, templates.

What is a polyvinyl solar panel?

A polyvinyl solar panel is a type of solar panel with a highly textured "prismatic" surface that traps photons within the solar panel that would normally escape from traditional flat solar panels. This results in an increase in the solar panel's generation.

Is aluminum framing necessary for solar panels?

Solar panels do not always require aluminum framing. The edges of the tiles are sealed to keep out moisture, much like in glass-glass solar panels, and six millimeters of hardened solar glass protects the face of the panels from the elements. The back is protected by a layer of fire resistant Tedlar (polyvinyl fluoride).

Who designed a transparent solar PV array?

A transparent, organic PV array was built by Armor and designed by Marjan van Aabel. Solar PV is being deployed rapidly on rooftops, in fields, on landfills, and other unusual places. It can also be integrated into the built environment artfully, fusing objective value with subjective enjoyment. Here are five of pv magazine's favorite designs from 2021:
