Overview

Will Cuba's energy investment strengthen the national energy system?

This investment is expected to significantly strengthen the national energy system. Since October, Cuba has experienced total paralysis of the national energy system three times, caused by a failure at the main Antonio Guiteras power plant in Matanzas in the western part of the country.

How will Cuba's relationship with other countries impact the energy transition?

Cuba's relationships with other countries will be key to realizing the energy transition. Since 2000, Venezuela has been Cuba's primary source of imported oil. However, political and economic troubles in Venezuela caused oil exports to Cuba to fall by about half, resulting in Cuba increasingly seeking oil imports from Mexico and Russia.

Does Cuba rely on fossil fuels?

Cuba's power system is currently heavily reliant on fossil fuels. In 2022, fossil fuels accounted for about 95% of electricity generation, and about 48% of the fossil fuels used were imported, putting the country at high risk of price shocks and supply shortages.

Will solar panels increase access to electricity in Las Tunas?

De la O Levy explained that the authorities would support citizens in installing solar panels to increase access to electricity. The wind farm, which has been planned for several years in collaboration with China in Las Tunas, in the eastern part of the island, will be an important element in combating the energy crisis.

Why is Cuba importing oil from Mexico and Russia?

However, political and economic troubles in Venezuela caused oil exports to Cuba to fall by about half, resulting in Cuba increasingly seeking oil imports from Mexico and Russia. Cuba has worked with India, the Indian-based International Solar Alliance, and China to develop renewable energy projects.
