Why is Eaton UPS so much more expensive than APC and

58 votes, 87 comments. true. UK person here, so not sure how it differs country to country, but every APC UPS we've had has excelled in utterly trashing the batteries. Where I have to change batteries in an APC every 18-24 months, an Eaton will go five or six years without killing them.. At work, we've standardised on Eaton and change batteries at 3 years, but then rather stick the ...
