Overview

Is Freiburg a 'solar city'?

Freiburg, Europe's "solar city", has goals of achieving 100% renewable energy by 2035 and carbon neutrality for the city by 2050. In Freiburg (as in the rest of Germany), solar energy has guaranteed feed-in tariffs (thanks to Germany's Electricity Feed-in Law). Freiburg is a shining example of the success of Germany's energiewende.

What type of energy does Freiburg use?

In addition to using solar power as a major energy source, Freiburg uses biomass for a significant share of the city's energy needs. The majority of Freiburg consists of woodland, green spaces, and agricultural lands; there are over 5000 hectares of forest surrounding the city.

Why is Freiburg a great place to invest in solar energy?

The Freiburg region has the highest density of exemplary solar power schemes, the largest population of solar energy researchers and the most dynamic centre of technological advancement and product innovation anywhere in the world.

How many solar companies are there in Freiburg?

Currently, the cluster has over 150 member companies from the solar and environmental industries from the Freiburg region. Eco-friendly 4-star-hotel in Freiburg. 64 rooms with air-conditioning. Sauna and fitness room in the hotel. Wireless internet free of charge. Guests receive free tickets for public transport.

What happened at the Freiburg Solar Summit?

The Freiburg Solar Summit followed a Solar Heating and Cooling Summit in Freiburg, in which new solar thermal technologies were highlighted. Freiburg, Germany, known globally as Europe's "solar city", installed more solar PV than any other city in Germany, and also more than many European countries.

Is solar a good idea in Germany?

The success of solar in Germany, and of energiewende policies, is best evidenced by the ultra-sustainable town of Vauban. Vauban is a city district in Freiburg in which the majority of homes run on solar energy generated on-site, mostly in the form of rooftop solar photovoltaic (PV) panels (as well as a supply of bioenergy).
