EXIDE Batteries

One of the most recent advances in commercial vehicle battery technology has been HVR® (High Vibration Resistance), developed by Exide Technologies. This feature offers unprecedented levels of reliability by substantially absorbing vibration that is the main cause of damage to the internal structure of the battery.

The shortcut to success.

Additionally, the HVR® (high-vibration-resistant) technology enables StrongPRO EFB+ to pass the extreme vibration tests under the new European V4 standard (EN 50342-1:2015). A more robust and more lasting battery means reduced total service cost for fleet owners and
