CBI245A

Technical features Thanks to the All In One units (DC-UPS), it will be possible to optimize power management. The available power is automatically allocated between load and battery, supplying power to the load is the first priority of the unit thus it is not necessary to double the power, because also the power going to the battery will go to the load if the load so requires.
