Can photovoltaic panels be installed on 3D curved surfaces?

A Japanese research team has developed a stretchable micro-scale concentrator photovoltaic (CPV) module that can be installed on arbitrary 3D curved surfaces characterized by sharp curvatures. The module measures 32 mm × 40 mm, with a thickness of 4.1 mm.

Why is a photovoltaic module suitable for 3D curved surfaces?

Thus, this module design enables high areal coverage on 3D curved surfaces, while generating a higher electricity yield in a limited installation area. The use of photovoltaic devices for energy harvesting in real-world applications requires that they are conformable to non-flat surfaces.

Which PV modules are suitable for curved surfaces?

One of the most advantageous installation features of PV modules is coverage on curved surfaces, and PV modules that incorporate flexible and thin-film solar cells, including thin-film Si 6, CIGS 7, CdTe 8, perovskite 9, 10, and III-V compounds 11, 12, could be suitable candidates.

What is a stretchable micro-scale concentrator photovoltaic module?

The module is based on a silicone concentrator lens, a thermoplastic polyurethane sheet, and a rigid III-V triple-junction solar cell. A Japanese research team has developed a stretchable micro-scale concentrator photovoltaic (CPV) module that can be installed on arbitrary 3D curved surfaces characterized by sharp curvatures.

How effective is a 3D curved PV module?

When perfectly fitted on a 3D curved surface with a sharp curvature, a prototype module achieves an outdoor power conversion efficiency of 15.4% and the daily generated electricity yield improves to a maximum of 190% relative to a non-concentration stretchable PV module.

Can a Photovoltaic concentrator flex over curved 3D surfaces?

The use of photovoltaic devices for energy harvesting in real-world applications requires that they are conformable to non-flat surfaces. Here, a micro-scale concentrator module shows 15.4% outdoor conversion efficiency and can stretch over curved 3D surfaces.
