Usage of Aluminum Alloy Clamp for Photovoltaic Bracket

Overview

---

This section explores the standard materials and their properties that make them suitable for solar panel mounting applications. Aluminum: Durable and Lightweight. Aluminum with its lightweight and corrosion-resistant features, is famous for solar panel mounts.

Aluminum alloy profile photovoltaic brackets are generally processed by extrusion, casting, bending, stamping and other methods. Extrusion production is the current mainstream production method. By opening the extrusion die, profiles of any arbitrary cross-section can be produced, and the production speed is relatively fast.

Insert the PV module into the clamp, and make sure the module edge touch to the EPDM closely and then tighten the nut with uniform torque values using a qualified torque wrench to ensure the double glass module is firmly secured. Trina suggests using M8 bolts to affix the double glass modules onto the clamp.

From service walkways to conduit, wire trays, optimizers, other MLPEs and monitoring equipment, you can use S-5! clamps, brackets and GRIPPERFIX® universal utility mounting system to securely attach the above ancillaries to your PV array.

The broad line of aluminum and brass S-5! clamps are extremely versatile, fitting most standing seam and exposed-fastened metal roof profiles, including most structural and architectural profiles. S5! clamps and brackets have been laboratory tested on a variety of seam types, profiles, and materials to determine ultimate tensile failure loads.
