Who is texelenergie?

Everywhere in the Netherlands TexelEnergie focuses on the purchase, sale and production of sustainable electricity and gas. They supply energy on the island and also in the rest of the Netherlands. So to everyone who cares about Texel.

Are Vanuatu buildings energy-efficient?

Vanuatu's buildings are, in general, not energy-efficient. Comfort and built-in energy demand such as space cooling and lighting are intrinsically related to building design and are best addressed during design and construction.

How can Vanuatu be sustainable?

To be sustainable, and to achieve the overall NERM vision, Vanuatu's energy supply and energy infrastructure must be safe for humans and the environment. They must also promote Vanuatu's broader social and environmental objectives as set out in the NSDP.

What is Vanuatu's national energy road map?

The overall vision of the 2013 version of the National Energy Road Map (NERM) is to energise Vanuatu's growth and development through the provision of secure, affordable, widely accessible, high quality, clean energy services for an educated, healthy, and wealthy nation. Vanuatu's NERM was first endorsed by the Council of Ministers in 2013.

Why is Vanuatu developing alternative fuels for generating electricity?

This growth is encouraging as it provides confidence that Vanuatu is developing alternatives to diesel for generating electricity. This will reduce reliance on a single fuel (and the related risks to affordability) as well as achieve renewable energy targets for sustainability purposes.

Does Vanuatu have a green energy fund?

With the National Green Energy Fund established and functioning, Vanuatu is well positioned to deliver renewable energy access and achieve energy savings across key economic sector including water, agriculture, fisheries, and tourism.
